Call for Nominations for 6th Annual
Richard H. Driehaus Foundation Bungalow Awards
Winners honored with cash prize

CHICAGO (June 16, 2010) – Chicago’s love of bungalows, and owners’ efforts to renovate and restore them, will earn much-deserved recognition this year through the 6th Annual Richard H. Driehaus Foundation Bungalow Awards. Created by the Historic Chicago Bungalow Association, with the support of the Richard H. Driehaus Foundation, the awards honor the creativity and efforts of owners of Chicago’s unique Historic Bungalows for the work they’ve done in interior and exterior renovations, landscaping and restoration.

This year cash awards will be larger, and the HCBA is adding a sixth category, Small Project, to recognize smaller-scale, less costly improvements. The award categories are:

- Interior Restoration that preserves the detail and form of the historic structure
- Interior Rehabilitation that demonstrates a contemporary use of space while maintaining the integrity and distinctive features of the structure
- Exterior Rehabilitation that is consistent with the lines and look of the particular bungalow and those around it
- Landscape Design that demonstrates creative design solution
- Green Project that demonstrates the use of energy-efficient design and renovation while maintaining classic features
- Small Project that preserves historic detail and form while improving one aspect of a room or the exterior at a cost of $5,000 or less

The award this year is higher than ever before, at $1000 for first-place winners.

Winners will be honored as part of HCBA’s 10th anniversary celebration this fall.

Nominations can be received from owners for their own homes, or Bungalows can be nominated by a neighbor, friend or neighborhood association. Nominated projects can be whole homes, single rooms or small projects and will be judged by a panel of architects, journalists and civic leaders. All nominations are due by September 1, and on-site viewing of the nominated Bungalows will be conducted on September 17 and 18.

Nominations can now be submitted online at www.chicagobungalow.org/awards. Nominators must upload three to five photographs of the bungalow.
